Look out for new class dates this summer!

Generative Writing - 4 classes

In these workshops I'll offer a 5-minute writing warmup and then a 20-25 prompt. Prompts will be designed to generate creativity and creative nonfiction writing ideas. Everyone will have time to write and then time to share. You're welcome to follow the prompts or use the time to work on an independent piece of writing.

How It Works - 1 class

In this class we'll look closely at a published piece of creative nonfiction and analyze how it works as a piece of art. The class will be part lecture, part discussion. I'll send out the piece in advance and ask participants to read it ahead of class.

Writing Process - 1 class

This class will be a space for writers to discuss the challenges, questions and curiosities that arise during the writing process. I'll send out a reading ahead of the class as a basis for discussion.

Fig8Camp - 4 classes

The best way to become a stronger, nimbler writer, in my humble opinion, is to play, experiment and shake out of worn pathways. This "camp" is designed to get you into a playful, creative space with your writing. We'll go beyond the bounds of creative nonfiction and play with funky forms, blended genres and the possibilities of language. It's summer, so let's have fun with it!
